COST OF VIEW STREET SCHEME

COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL DECIDES ON DETAILS

Assessment Will Be Made on Owners in Section From Government to Cook

In very expeditious fashion the streets committee of the city council, at the meeting held last evening, arranged all the details preliminary to the extension of View street through the burned area from Broad to Government street, and at Monday evening's meeting of the full board by-laws for the expropriation of the necessary property and to fix the assessment on the owners who are to pay for the cost of the work will be introduced.

The matter came up for consideration on the presentation of the following report from the city engineer and city assessor:

We beg to submit the following preliminary report re the extending of View street west from Broad street to Government street. We estimate that it will cost $24,817 to extend View street sixty feet wide from Broad street to Government street. To make this extension and keeping View street straight will necessitate the taking of a strip of land averaging six feet from lot 167, owned by Lee Mong Kow, et al., and a strip averaging seven feet wide from lot 167, owned by the Union Bank of Canada. Also a portion of the David Spencer property thirty-six feet wide formerly known as a hardware store, and twenty feet at present occupied by the Daily Times. Also approximately fifty-three feet owned by J. A. and J. Douglas, formerly occupied by Henry Young Company and the F.R. Reform Tailoring Company.

We also estimate that it will cost $24,500 to expropriate lots 168a and 168 sixty-six feet in width. The north limit of that portion of the street to be opened will be six feet south of the northerly limit of View street as it is at present and the south limit of that portion to be extended will be twelve feet south of the south limit of View street as at present. In other words, if you take two full lots there will be a slight jog in the extension of View street, and that portion will be sixty-six feet instead of sixty feet wide.

"Provided View street is extended sixty feet in width there will be a strip thirteen feet in width left on the south side of the proposed extension of View street next to Henry Young & Co., thus cutting off the Henry Young property from the proposed extension and making the assessment of this portion inequitable. It would thus appear that a sixty-six foot street should be the easiest adjustment and the most advantageous.

"The expropriation will be independent of the paving cost. We are of the opinion that two by-laws should be prepared, one for the expropriation and one for the local improvement. The extent of the local improvement should be decided by your committee. That is, if you wish only the block to be paved where the extension is to be made, or if you wish the pavement to extend from Government to say Douglas, or to Cook, or to the end of View street at Ormond street, sometimes called School street. We estimate that the cost of a forty-foot asphalt pavement with sidewalks ten feet wide on both sides of the street for that portion of View street between Government and Broad streets will cost $2,800; between Government and Cook street, $58,000; between Government and Ormond, $73,000. The city's share in each by-law should not exceed $15,000. The assessment for the pavement should be made according to the front foot. Your committee should decide the method of assessment for the expropriation, whether by the frontage, the assessed value, the number of lots, the amount of benefit, and the area of the lots benefited, or partly by frontage and partly by each of the other methods, or partly by any two or more methods.

"We would suggest for your consideration that the amount required for the expropriation should be raised on the lands benefited in the following proportions, the cost being assessed according to the frontage:

Between Government and Broad streets, 50 per cent.

Between Broad and Douglas streets, 15 per cent.

Between Douglas and Blanchard streets, 12 per cent.

Between Blanchard and Quadra streets, 7 per cent.

Between Quadra and Vancouver streets, 3 per cent.

Between Vancouver and Cook streets, 2 per cent.

Between Cook and Ormond streets, 1 per cent.

Old Bannerman, chairman of the committee, thought it would be unfair to charge 80 per cent of the cost of the work to the owners of the block which will be cut through, and on the other hand the proposed assessment of the owners on the section

DIRIGIBLE CROSSES ENGLISH CHANNEL

Balloonist Forced to Descend
After Reaching Coast of France

(Times Leased Wire.)

Paris, Nov. 5.—After a night spent bucking head winds which threatened to carry it far out to sea, the dirigible balloon City of Cardiff, which sailed from Wormwood Scrub, near London, yesterday, landed at Corbehem near Douai, early to-day.

The balloon was forced to descend owing to a broken tube. This will be repaired by the crew and the flight to Paris continued to-night.

The City of Cardiff is manned by Pilot Welsh and Engineer Willows. Vessels sighted the dirigible last night flying low over the sea, headed toward France, and until it was sighted this morning, fears for the safety of the crew had been entertained.

SKEENA COAL CLAIMS STAKED

EXPERT EXAMINES BIG DEPOSITS IN NORTH

Excellent Progress Being Made
On New Telegraph
Lines

(Special to the Times.)

Hazelton, Nov. 5.—Mr. Campbell-Johnston, considered one of the best coal experts in British Columbia, has returned from Groundhog Mountain on the upper Skeena, where he examined the extensive coal areas in the interest of Winnipeg capitalists. One of the largest and richest bodies of coal in North America, he claims, covering ninety square miles, has been staked for the Crow's Nest Coal Company, National Finance Company of Vancouver, and Winnipeg capitalists. It is understood Mr. Campbell-Johnston's report will be very favorable. That a railroad will be built from Hazelton into the new coal fields in the near future is almost assured.

The Grand Trunk Pacific telegraph line now being built east from Prince Rupert has reached mileage 85. Good progress is being made on the Stewart extension of the Dominion government telegraph line. Over twenty-five miles have been completed from Kitsukalam to Kitsukalam lake and about the same distance southeast from Stewart. It is expected Stewart will be in telegraphic communication with the outside world early next spring.

GERMANY'S TRADE WITH CANADA

Manufacturers Anxious to Establish Closer Relations With Dominion

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Statistics are published showing the remarkable effect of the cessation of the long tariff war between Germany and Canada and of the conclusion of the provisional commercial agreement between the two countries.

The tariff war ceased at the end of February, and the new provisional agreement came into force on March 1. During the first six months the latter brought about an increase of 48 per cent. of German exports to Canada; on the other hand, Canadian exports to Germany increased to 45 per cent.

German iron manufacturers profited more than any other by the cessation of the tariff war, for exports of some kinds of German hardware increased by from three to four hundred percent. German textile industries also reaped a rich harvest. The exports of stockings doubled, and those of cloths, carpets and gloves increased very considerably. German chemical, glass, porcelain and toy manufacturers all shared in the increased trade.

This remarkable advance in commercial relations with Canada causes great satisfaction here. It is pointed out that Germany would find a still more favorable market in Canada if her products could be placed on an equality with those of Great Britain in the matter of tariff dues. Germany's efforts will now be directed towards extending the present provisional agreement into a definite commercial treaty with Canada, whereby the present differentiation in favor of Great Britain will be neutralized.

LESSONS FROM BYE-ELECTION

SIGNIFICANCE OF BOURASSA MOVEMENT

Montreal Witness Says Result is Warning to Sham
Imperialists

(Special to the Times.)

Montreal, Nov. 5.—The witness says Mr. Bourassa knows very well that his appeal has for several years past been to race, religion and prejudice and that the election in Drummond and Arthabasca has been won largely by frightening the voters into the belief that the able-bodied men would be dragged off to fight in Britain's wars by land and sea. In a sense, however, the victory of Messrs. Bourassa, Monk and others may do good all round. It may bring the Conservative party to a graver sense of its responsibilities. It may—and this is most of all to be desired—teach our Imperialists not to be so shrill, especially those whose Imperialism is suspected of being largely sham.

In Le Devoir Mr. Henry Bourassa, over his own signature, says: "It is the beginning of the end. Such is the phrase which has burst from every mouth. It is not the mischance of circumstances which forced upon the Prime Minister the fight in which he has just succumbed. He himself designed to advance and in secret the hour and place and all the conditions of the fight. Then he imposed these upon his adversaries with the accuracy of a despot, the crafty of a Machiavelli and the corrupting power of a chief of state who is without scruples. He wished to force the passage of his naval law under the authority of his name and the charm of his personality. He has, therefore, no cause for complaint if to-day from Sydney to Victoria everybody, friend, adversary or neutral knows that the defeat of Mr. Perrault constitutes a double and a formidable check to Laurierism, to the naval law and to the person and the policy of Prime Minister. Mr. Laurier must now understand the views of the personal regime which he has allowed to be erected around him and his government and policy, above all, in the province of Quebec. But what is of more importance in my view than the personal check of the Prime Minister, is the manifest condemnation, sweeping, and without reserve, of the naval law and the Imperialistic policy. In this regard the electors of Drummond and Arthabasca, the chosen member, Mr. Gilbert, and the entire party of devoted friends, who conducted his campaign, deserve the gratitude of all Canadians who wish to preserve the autonomy of Canada."

London Opinion.

London, Nov. 5.—The Westminster Gazette does not attach great importance to the result in the Drummond bye-election. It says it has fixed the limits within which the Dominion government must act to attain that which is most desirable, to carry it with the French as well as the British race in Canada. With reference to the navy question in general, the Westminster Gazette is perfectly content with the definition given to clause 23 in the act. It is willing to trust to the good sense of governments, imperial and local, to act together in the case of trouble, so that no emergency shall arise that will give the Empire.

Visit of Russian Emperor to Kaiser Regarded as Non-Political.

The Grand Trunk Pacific telegraph line now being built east from Prince Rupert has reached mileage 85. Good progress is being made on the Stewart extension of the Dominion government telegraph line. It is expected Stewart will be in telegraphic communication with the outside world early next spring.

SECRETARY OF DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE PREDICTS MAJORITY OF FIFTY-ONE

(Times Leased Wire.)

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Chairman William E. McKinley, of the Republican congressional campaign committee, to-day issued the following statement:

"From the best reports obtainable,

I am confident that the Republicans will control the 62nd congress with a fair working majority. The size of this majority, and, in fact, the outcome of the election, will be determined by the percentage of the Republican vote going to the polls Tuesday.

"That voters have taken but slight interest in the pending campaign is evident by the small vote cast at the primaries for the candidates on the various tickets. It would seem that this forecasts an extraordinary light vote, especially in the rural districts, where the farmers are enjoying unusual prosperity."

Secretary Trimble, of the Democratic congressional campaign, predicts a Democratic majority of 51

"votes in the next house.

"We believe that we have a majority of 51 votes in the lower house of congress after the coming elections," said Trimble. "We arrived at this conclusion by giving each party the districts of which we thought they were reasonably sure. The remaining districts we divide equally between the Republicans and Democrats.

While our gains will be more promounced in the east, there will be no specific part of the country to which they are confined. We expect a gain in every state now having Republican representation except four. We do not expect to lose more than two districts now represented by Democrats.

"In the beginning of the campaign the prospect of a Democratic victory was so bright that we feared that it might be only temporary. We congratulate ourselves that the revolt against the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and Republican mismanagement has grown daily until now it has become so evident that an overwhelming

Democratic victory is absolutely assured."

MYSTERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Woman Killed While on Trip With Her Husband.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Vesta Stafford is dead to-day as the result of a strange automobile accident which even her husband, who was driving the car, is unable to explain.

E. A. Talbot, who was driving another car on Norton avenue, says he saw the woman, who was 30 years of age, fall from her machine. He helped her husband take her to the receiving hospital, where she died.

Stafford declared that his wife apparently leaped from the tonneau while he was driving at a moderate speed.

He declared he is unable to account for her action. The case was given to the coroner.

FLIGHT POSTPONED.

New York, Nov. 4.—Because of continued wind and rain, with a probability of more heavy weather to follow, it was announced to-night that the proposed flight to-morrow of J. A.

McCurdy, one of the Curtiss team of aviators, from the deck of the Kaiserin

Auguste Victoria to Governor's Island in New York harbor has been postponed until November 4th.

On that date the flight will be attempted from the steamer America for the same distance—fifty miles over the sea.

This resulted in the liberation of many men and several women who had been in the royal prisons serving short terms.

Australian Ministerial Labor Party Will Send Delegation to London.

(Special to the Times.)

Melbourne, Nov. 5.—Notwithstanding protests of the labor party in the parliament of Australia is determined to accept the British government's invitation to send a delegation to the coronation. It is believed that the presence of eleven Australian Laborites in London at that time would be of immense advantage to the entire labor movement.

GAYNOR SHAKES UP POLICE DEPARTMENT

New York's Mayor Makes a Number of Changes Among Officials

New York, Nov. 5.—With a lawyer at the head of the department, a clever newspaper reporter as his first assistant, and one of the best known secret service men in America relinquishing a life position, to become second deputy, and reorganize the detective bureau, New Yorkers are watching the police department to-day with more interest than at any time since the departure of General Theodore Bingham.

"What does Mayor Gaynor intend to do?" is the question everywhere. For the first time in the history of the city the police department is being absolutely run from the city hall. No move is made without Mayor Gaynor being fully acquainted with it, and if Gaynor desires to mould a political machine for his own personal use, as some of his enemies charge, he was never in so good a position to do so before.

Gaynor is a sphinx regarding future plans. Not so his friends. They say, and they point to the record of his administration to date as proof, that the ambition of the mayor is to give New York a perfect administration in every department. He plans absolutely to end grafting in the police department and in order to do so he has adopted methods which his long experience on the bench showed him were absolutely necessary.

In placing out his men to run his police department as he wants it run Gaynor made wise selections. Commissioner Crospsey, the new head of the department, is a clever lawyer. He makes no secret of his intentions of doing just as the mayor says, and insists that he was appointed to see that the police department is run "exactly as a private business concern would be." The first deputy, Clement J. Driscoll, is a reporter who gained Gaynor's confidence by so administering the affairs of the bureau of weights and measures that fraudulent weighing was admittedly stamped out. Driscoll, by order of Gaynor, has been placed in absolute control of the vice and gambling proposition. All complaints are to go to him. He is to have detectives from the Central office to investigate where he thinks investigation is needed, and he is not directly responsible to his nominal chief, but only to the mayor. Those who know Driscoll best say that he will do whatever Gaynor desires.

William J. Flynn, the third deputy and head of the detective bureau, was for years captain of the secret service men in the city. Flynn is expected to reorganize the detective bureau. The fault with the old methods, Flynn has made plain, is the fact that the Central office men often block their own trail by rounding up a gang of suspects and then going after the evidence to convict. This is the direct opposite of the way Flynn has been in the habit of handling a case. Only in extreme cases where it was feared a suspect was about to make a "getaway" has Flynn adopted the Central office methods. He has kept his men at work on a counterfeiting case for months, while the counterfeiters, never thinking they were being watched, went right on passing the money. Not until he had his case complete has he ever acted. This was especially true in the Lupo case and others of a similar nature.

LOCAL NEWS

The city has just signed contracts with the Worswick Paving Company for paving with asphalt portions of Fernwood road, Rockland avenue and Richardson street. Work will commence at once. The contracts call for its completion by January 1.

Owing to the fact of not being able to have the building completed—the opening services of the new Burnsides Baptist Mission planned for to-morrow have been postponed for one week. The bazaar as arranged for Tuesday evening will be held as advertised.

The Automobile Association met at the board of trade rooms yesterday afternoon with John A. Turner in the chair. There was a representative attendance. A. E. Todd, J. Arbutnott, A. W. Bridgeman, H. G. Wilson and A. Oliphant, sr., were appointed a committee to call on the attorney-general in reference to automobile legislation which the government proposes to introduce next session.

Ald. McKeown, at Monday evening's meeting of the city council, will move for the introduction of a by-law providing for the expropriation of the holdings of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company. Ald. Fullerton will ask leave to introduce a by-law for a loan of $50,000 for improvements to the equipment of the fire department, and Ald. Bannerman will move that the by-law for the extension of View street be introduced.

There passed away yesterday afternoon at the residence of Capt. W. D. McDougal, 640 Hillside avenue, Mrs. M. Ballantine, relic of the late John B. Ballantine, deceased, who had been ailing for some time, was well-known in this city, having resided here for the past twenty years. She was born in Scotland and was 67 years of age. One daughter, Mrs. Ralph Patrick, Chicago, survives her. Her remains are reposing at the residence awaiting the funeral arrangements.

The arrangements for the Cafe Chantant are being vigorously prosecuted and the event promises to be an enjoyable one. Many of the best known amateur performers of the city have agreed to take part, and the turns will all be unique. Some very funny scenes will be presented, and others will hold attention by beauty of costuming and catchy music. As previously intimated, the Cafe Chantant will be opened in Institute hall on the evening of November 22, and will continue throughout the week. Tables may be reserved through Miss Pooley.

The sale of tickets for the second annual police ball, which will take place November 17 at the Women's building on the fair ground, has been disposed of. The ticket committee has disposed of the full allotment of tickets, and there are about fifteen hundred people who have purchased the pasteboards. The success of the ball is assured by the ready response of the public. Turner's orchestra is engaged to handle the musical programme. The decorations, refreshments and other committees have almost completed the arrangements, and the peace guardians look forward to a bigger success than was achieved last year, when the police ball was inaugurated.

Gaynor is a sphinx regarding future plans. Not so his friends. They say, and they point to the record of his administration to date as proof, that the ambition of the mayor is to give New York a perfect administration in every department. He plans absolutely to end grafting in the police department and in order to do so he has adopted methods which his long experience on the bench showed him were absolutely necessary.

MUSICAL SOCIETY'S FIRST CONCERT

Mme. Liza Lehmann Comes Here on Nov. 11—Ellen Terry Dec. 6

Delayed somewhat by the uncertainty as to disposition of the Victoria theatre, the prospectus of the Victoria Musical Society for the coming season has been late in issue, but is now out. Subscribers are asked to secure their season tickets from the honorary treasurer, Clifford Denham, at the Victoria theatre box office at once.

The ground floor boxes have all been taken for the season, the holders being His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, J. Hyatt McGregor (President of the society), Mrs. Dunsmuir, Mrs. Flumerfelt, Mrs. Matson and Mrs. Trewartha-Jones.

The first concert is to be given next Friday evening in the theatre by Mme. Liza Lehmann and her company, consisting of Miss Blanche Tomlin, soprano; Miss Palgrave-Turner, contralto; Hubert Eisell, tenor; Julian Henry, baritone. Mme. Lehman will, of course, be at the piano. The programme is:

Part I. Song Cycle—"In a Persian Garden." Quartette.

Part II. Song—"Abou Ben Adhem and the Angel." Miss Palgrave-Turner.

Five Little Love Songs..... Hubert Eisell.

Song—"Incident of the French Camp." Julian Henry.

Songs—(a) "Pearl and Song," (b) "Everybody's Secret." Miss Blanche Tomlin.

Part III. Song Cycle—"The Nonsense Songs." From Alice in Wonderland. Quartette.

Miss Ellen Terry is to be here on December 6, Josef Hoffman in March and Mischa Elman in April.

—By kind permission of Madam Hughes-Thomas two ladies of the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, Miss Nancy Langdon and Miss Jennie Emmanuel, will sing to-morrow evening at the Metropolitan church Gounod's duet, "O, Divine Redeemer." These are the two young ladies who sang so successfully the "Misere" from "Il Trovatore," last evening at the opera house. This is an act of courtesy on the part of Madam Hughes-Thomas to her friend and fellow-countrywoman, J. M. Morgan, choirmaster of the Metropolitan Methodist church.

Ladies of the W. C. T. U. mission board acknowledge with thanks the following donations for month of October: One board of wood each from Mr. Young, Moore & Whittington, Leigh & Sons and Taylor Mills; the Misses Hart, $2.25; Mrs. McNaughton, comforter; Mrs. Few, milk twice weekly; Rev. A. E. Roberts, pair of shoes; Mrs. Chapman, "Oaklands" pearls; Mrs. Ross, clothing; Mrs. A. E. Johnson, apples and pears; ladies of W. C. T. U. bazaar, milk, cakes, bread and preserves; Emmanuel Y. B. U., bread and meat; Noah Shakespeare, Mrs. Pemberton, Mrs. Hodge, Mrs. Wellwood, Miss Gunn, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Tites, Standard Stationery Co., Times and Colonist, papers and reading matter.

—In the window of Messrs. Boggs & Day are exhibited some potatoes of extraordinary size grown by A. W. Payne Le Sueur in his garden at Foul Bay. One of them weighs four pounds and the others three pounds and two ounces. Off the plot 75 x 100 feet one ton was taken out of the ground. Eighteen selected tubers tipped the scales at 50 pounds, while only 35 weighed 100 pounds. No credit is taken by Mr. Le Sueur for this wonderful growth, as he says he merely planted them to clean his ground from weeds prior to sowing beyond a lawn, giving them no cultivation beyond a hill. The potatoes notwithstanding the extraordinary size or apparent overgrowth, are of splendid quality, clear skin and solid at the heart.

J. Brown, of Victoria-West, appeared before the streets committee of the city council last evening with a suggestion as to the method of meeting the problem of draining the area known as Skinner's flats. Mr. Brown lives in the vicinity and has studied the situation closely. He is of the opinion that if a couple of large streams which run through the flats drain into it were diverted, the whole question will be solved. The work would have to be done at a point beyond the city limits, and a knotty question might then arise as to who was to pay for it. Ald. Rose, the representative of the ward in the council, said he had the matter in hand and would be prepared to submit a full report on Monday evening. The committee decided to take no action pending Mr. Rose's report.

—The ministering circle of the King's Daughters will meet in the Fort street room on Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. The committee composed of six members from the Home Nursing Society and six from the Local Council of Women, will meet Wednesday November 9, at 2:30 p.m. at Alexandra Club.

SPAIN AND THE VATICAN

WAY MAY BE OPENED FOR NEGOTIATIONS

Concordat Must Be Revised Before New Congregations Are Formed

Madrid, Nov. 5.—The senate last night by a vote of 149 to 58, passed the "padlock" bill, which prohibits the creation of further religious establishments in Spain until the revision of the concordat with the Vatican has been completed.

The conciliatory attitude of Premier Canalejas towards the ecclesiastical senators during the debate in the senate on the bill led to the impression in official circles that a way would be found to resume negotiations between the government and the Vatican for a revision of the concordat.

The bill, as passed, included an amendment by Baron Sacristi, limiting to two years the period of inhibition for the establishment of new congregations.

The result of the vote constitutes a triumph for the ministry, the most optimistic supporters of which had not expected so large a majority.

Near the close of the debate, the Archbishop of Saragossa said he voted against the bill because it was an odious law against orders which worthily fulfilled their holy mission and because it was a deliberate slight to Rome.

Premier Canalejas, in a brilliant speech, pithily summed up the discussion. He declared that the papaluncio to Spain and Rome were really acquainted with the bill, which had been communicated to them in writing. He added that he never would consent to submit to the Holy See a question which pertained exclusively to the sovereign of the state. The revision of the concordat of 1851 has long been the cause of diplomatic negotiations between Liberal governments in Spain and the Vatican. The modifications sought affect chiefly the clauses relating to liberty of conscience and education and the limitation of religious orders. With the advent last February of the present ministry, Premier Canalejas announced that the negotiations begun by his predecessors with the Vatican would be continued, but that this programme, which calls for the abridgement of the influences of the Catholic church and the inauguration of a broad system of public education, would proceed regardless of the wishes of Rome.

Much opposition on the part of the Clerics has been brought to bear against Canalejas' programme, and especially the "padlock" bill, which prohibits the creation of further religious orders until the question of the revision of the concordat has been settled. The Vatican made frequent and vigorous protests against the bill.

The debate on the measure was heated, and on October 28, Canalejas declared that if it were not passed he would resign. The critical hour had sounded for the church in Spain, he said, and he asked the aid of all Liberals so that an equitable and definite settlement of the relations between the government and the Vatican might be had.

The "padlock" bill, the premier declared, was necessary to help solve the Clerical problem.

HIGHER SALARIES

Rome, Nov. 5.—Owing to the high cost of living, especially the dear prices of meat and bread, which it is feared will be greater next year, the Pope has increased by 25 per cent. the salaries of all the Vatican employees, including the Pontifical troops, who provide their own food and are not given rations.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST SUEZ CANAL DUES

Subject May Come Up Before Imperial Conference Next Year

London, Nov. 5.—It is understood that one of the questions to be placed before the Imperial conference next year is that of the Suez canal dues, against which bitter complaint is made by British, German, Dutch and other shipowners, and by the peoples of Australasia, to say nothing of Indian and Chinese traders. As for South Africa, it makes no sign at present, but may do so when it has time to think of things other than union.

A prominent shipper said: "There can be no doubt that the dues will be discussed by the Imperial conference. The subject is too important to be omitted. I do not suppose that the British government would wish to leave it out, but, if they did, Australasia would be sure to bring it forward. Our kinsmen in that part of the world hold that the present high rates charged by the canal company check the trade between them and us. The prime minister of New Zealand, in particular, has spoken very strongly on the subject."

"In more than one quarter it is felt that the British government takes a narrow view of its responsibility in connection with this matter. Half owner of the canal and protector of Egypt, through which the waterway passes, it nevertheless seems to think of nothing but the dividends which it may pocket, whereas its object should be to do so well with the canal as to develop trade communications between various parts of the Empire. Moreover, British shipping is not too powerful to be above the need of help. Our supremacy has been so great that we have lost sight of the progress made by our rivals."

REPUBLICAN ATTACKS NEW NATIONALISM

Declares Policy Is World-Old Despotism of One Man Power

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 5.—In a speech last night before the Cornell club, President Schurman, who was a delegate to the Republican state convention and voted in support of Col. Roosevelt, said:

"I regard Mr. Roosevelt's new 'nationalism' as the most revolutionary and dangerous programme any political leader has laid before the people since the close of the civil war. To call it an application of the ancient moralities to modern conditions is a downright travesty of the decalogue. In reality, the new 'nationalism' of Roosevelt is the world-old despotism of one man power decked out in the rainbow promises of a benevolent socialism."

Like all the advocates of despotism, Mr. Roosevelt finds the cure of most human ills in an omnipotent arbitrary and meddlesome executive. He would indefinitely enlarge these powers to the detriment alike of home rule and state sovereignty, subordinating courts and congress to the president.

This Caesarian president is to bring about a more equal distribution of power, but it is not explained how the poor man is to get higher wages than a solvent business can afford to pay.

The new "nationalism" spells Caesarism in government and bankruptcy in business and will not add a cent to anyone's income except politicians and the army of government officials."

NEW WESTMINSTER FINANCES

New Westminster, Nov. 4.—City Treasurer Lester presented the city council with a statement showing the receipts of the city since January 1, 1910, and the disbursements made during the month of October. In commenting on the report Mayor Lee remarked that the receipts from taxes and other sources so far this year was in excess of the estimate and the total receipts for the whole year would be considerably above the estimate made. The expenditures made in nearly every case will run well within the estimates. He considered the statement at this time a satisfactory one.

According to the report the total receipts for 10 months of the present year were $22,374.88 and the receipts for the month of October $80,506.67. The total amount paid into the city treasury in taxes so far this year is $121,086.88. A payment of $32,560.53 from Richmond municipality on account of the city's steps

HAZED BY STUDENTS.

Eureka, Cal., Nov. 4.—Percy Wrigley, hazed and almost strangled to death, is in a serious condition to-day. Wrigley was attacked by five students of the Eureka High school, was gagged and then given a mild "third degree." The hazing was perpetrated by members of rival school fraternities. The gag was tied so tightly that Wrigley could scarcely breathe. The victim's consciousness and his assailants flew.

Citizens are investigating.

FOR A NAVY OR AGAINST?

While the people of British Columbia are not, as a general rule, intensely interested in the elections in Quebec province, an unusual amount of attention has been focussed on the election which took place two days ago in Drummond and Arthabaska counties, when the government candidate went down to defeat before a Bourassa Liberal over the naval question. It was to be expected that with a few notable exceptions, the Conservative press of the country would gloat over the result, professing to see in it a revulsion of feeling against the present government. The Conservatives in doing this will bring retribution upon themselves. They are putting themselves in agreement with the policy which defeated the candidate and which is one of "no navy," the very opposite of what most Conservatives have professed to advocate. Among those who are gloating, the telegraph informs us, is R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party in the House of Commons. Throughout the election, while his friend and co-worker Monk has been stumping the country side by side with Henri Bourassa, Mr. Borden has been silent. When he was taunted with the fact that the Quebec Conservatives whom he was supposed to be leading were declaring for "no navy," he uttered not a word. There was no disclaimer of that policy. We prophecy that this unstatesmanlike silence on his part will be his undoing, and will undoubtedly be seized upon by his opponents within the party, and their name is legion, to wrest the leadership from him and place a stronger man at the head of the party. Discussing this, the Toronto Globe says:

"The National-Conservative-Ultramontane coalition has won a victory that will in the end prove to be its undoing. The most indefensible position is that of the Conservatives, who in their eagerness to aid Mr. Bourassa's candidate have gone to lengths in arousing hatred of Great Britain that will shock the country when fully disclosed."

Discussing this same question during the progress of the election the Toronto Star says:

"The Toronto News endeavours to dissociate Mr. Borden from the campaign of Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Monk. There is, however, a question apart from that of personal responsibility. Mr. Borden aspires to be Premier of Canada. In order to govern Canada he must have a definite policy, a policy which can be justified in every part of the Dominion. He has a right to contend that the naval policy of the present government is not Imperial enough, if that is his opinion, but he must be prepared to uphold that view in Quebec as well as in Ontario. In the bye-election now in progress he is simply doing and saying nothing, leaving the fighting to be done by Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the one side, and Mr. Bourassa, and Mr. Monk on the other. If he maintains that attitude in a general election, he demonstrates his inability to govern the country."

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his government are now under fire from extremists on both sides. At the opposite end from Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Monk is Mr. Boyce, an Ontario supporter of Mr. Borden, who objects to Ministerial control of the navy, objects to the use of the word 'Canada' in the navy, and is clearly an opponent not only of Canadian autonomy but of responsible government. It is possible that Mr. Borden does not sympathize with the extremists at either end. But how does he propose to reconcile their views and to frame a policy that will have a reasonable prospect of acceptance in every part of Canada? Sir Wilfrid Laurier is now facing the difficulties which are inherent in the position of Canada, and which will confront every statesman whose duty is to govern Canada. Mr. Borden must either agree with him or show a better way. So far he has done neither."

It is satisfactory to find the Victoria Colonist taking a fairly sane view of the matter, "but in our estimation that paper attaches altogether too much importance to a trivial event. There is no danger that Quebec as a whole will follow the lead of Drummond and Arthabaska. If the people of Quebec are opposed to a navy they have a right to their opinion, and can vote accordingly. If, however, the rest of the Dominion chooses to outvote them, they must submit." The electors of Drummond-Arthabaska were roused by a number of irresponsible orators who lied in regard to the actual conditions. The following is from a correspondent who was on the field of action at the time of the election. He is describing a meeting held at Lavenir:

"After the candidates had spoken Mr. Tancet Marcel, a youthful Nationalist, with long hair and a passionate waistcoat, addressed the meeting. The bogey of naval conscription is one which the Nationalists use constantly, and unless the French-Canadian voter can be taught that there is no possibility of this under the Laurier Naval Bill, there is no doubt but that many of their votes will be gathered in by the Nationalists. The latter do not hesitate to make surprising statements. At a meeting the other day one of them was flatly contradicted on the matter of Admiral Kingsmill's salary. He had been telling the people that the officer received fifty thousand dollars a year from the Laurier government, and was caught by somebody who happened to know and was able to prove that the real figure was three thousand five hundred."

"Mr. Marcel drew a vivid picture of the evils of Imperialism, men separated from their families to die on far-off battlefields, the country plunged into a carnival of expenditure. . . .

"When England is at war, Canada is at war." So says Mr. Fielding, and Mr. Fielding is the man who may succeed Sir Wilfrid Laurier as Premier of Canada when Providence strikes Sir Wilfrid as it strikes every man," cried Mr. Marcel.

"A vote for Mr. Perrault is a vote for war, for cannon and rifles. Keep your children at home." Although the Navy bill bore on the face of it nothing to show compulsory service, he said, yet that would come, just as it had come to other countries."

The Conservative leaders, for party purposes have encouraged such views as these by their silent acquiescence. They will undoubtedly reap their reward.

HON. RICHARD McBRIDE.

Canadian Colliers in its latest number has an editorial which has set some people thinking. It is written by one of the ablest editorial writers in the country, a man who has recently visited British Columbia and shed things up for himself. It deals particularly with the personality of Premier McBride, and runs as follows:

"Comes word from British Columbia that Premier McBride is getting rid of the big men in his cabinet and taking up with pale substitutes. This may be playing the game—it was, we remember, the plan of one famous Canadian statesman to make his colleagues in council nothing more than registering clerks of his will—but it does not run with greatness of itself. The Sun is not jealous of Mars or Tellus or Jupiter or Saturn because they circle round him. It does not transpire that George Washington got peevish because buckling contemporaries said Hamilton was his brains and Jefferson his pen and somebody else his sword. He took criticism like that standing up and was the bigger and better loved for it. Premier McBride can afford not to be afraid of Bowers or anybody else near the throne. Is he aware that he has the Tories, East and West, looking at him as the handsome hero, the Laurier redivivus and regenerator, who is to lead them out of bondage into the promised land? Here is the frame-up every stalwart from Halifax to Vancouver talks by day and dreams by night: 'In 1910 Laurier will have died or quit the game. He is an old man now and has expressed a wish to spend his declining years with his books and flowers at Arthabaska. After the general election of 1911 or 1912 he will never go to the country again. When he steps out the same thing will happen as happened when Sir John Macdonald died. Three of four Jack-o'-the-pineches will be tried and will fail. After that McBride and a change of government.' It sounds plausible. In 1910 Richard McBride will be rich enough to do what he pleases. He will be forty-five years old, an ideal age for a premier of a brisk country, his mind cool for judgment, his blood hot still for action. Meanwhile, if he has his eye on the big game, he should beware of littleness. When he is the whole works he can—but that is another story."

There is one statement in this editorial which we think cannot be true, even though so keen an observer as the editor of Canadian Colliers says so. That statement is to the effect that by the year 1910 Richard McBride will be rich man. We all know that the salary of the premier of this province is comparatively small, and that it is practically all spent in living up to the requirements of the position. Premier McBride is an honest man, and for that reason he cannot become rich in so short a time. Everyone was aware that he had no money when he first commenced the political game. True, he now owns a fruit farm in the interior, but this cannot be expected to bring much revenue after the expenses of management have been paid. Sir John A. Macdonald, although for many years in politics, died a poor man—poor because he was too honest to take anything from the people. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose income exceeds considerably that of Premier McBride, is also poor. That in five or six years the premier of British Columbia will have been able to save even a competence from his salary is inconceivable.

A fortnight ago the Colonist in one of its periodical railway announcements said that construction work on the Island section of the C. N. R. would commence within two weeks. We are waiting for the fulfilment of another promise. . . .

The Parliament of United South Africa was opened yesterday by the Duke of Connaught. This is simply one of the many important events which have been following close one after the other, and which are all making for a great federal British Empire, an Empire of self-governing nations.

Just to exemplify their contempt for the institutions of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier has always been a staunch advocate and defender, and probably as an expression of their "national" aspirations, M. Bourassa and his followers always speak of the Prime Minister as "Mr." Laurier. Honest Conservatives and sincere Imperialists in all parts of Canada ought surely to be proud of the men whom and the cause with which their leaders have formed an alliance.

On tickets being sold by personal canvass in this city we find the following printed: "The Local Council of Women, Victoria, B. C., co-operating with the National Society for Broader Education, present Guy Carleton Lee, Ph. D., LL.D., in a tripartite course of lectures." We have no doubt the "National Society for Broader Education" (whatever it may be and wherever its "domicile") is a most worthy institution. Nor do we question the ability to instruct and entertain of Guy Lee Carleton, Ph. D., etc. But as the Local Council of Women has assumed responsibility for this course of lectures and has authorized two charming ladies (when it is the misfortune of Victorians to know very little about) to sell tickets for the course to a charitably-inclined public at the rate of a dollar and a half apiece, we think the ladies of the L. C. W. ought to take the community into their confidence and indicate precisely what percentage of the receipts will be devoted to local charitable purposes and how

CHINATOWN PAWN*SHOP IS LOOTED

Thieves Get Away With $1,000 in Jewelry and Precious Stones

While the return of the soul ceremony were in progress in the local Chinatown Thursday night, and the Chinese population were engaged in the accompanying exercises, a thief, or thieves, took advantage of the lack of watchfulness and over-abundance of stillness, to loot a Chinese pawn shop on Store street, near the corner of Herald street, and decamp with almost the entire contents that were movable.

The city detective office is now looking for the gang responsible for the transfer of the goods from the pawn shop to a secret hiding place. The detectives are also trying to locate the hiding place of the thieves.

The value of the goods stolen is in the neighborhood of $1,000, and consists mostly of jewelry and precious stones. The detective office has obtained a complete list of the valuables stolen, and copies of this are being made to-day and will be sent to police headquarters of all the neighboring towns, and also to Seattle and the other coast cities of the United States. The usual intimation of the robbery has been made to the pawnbrokers and dealers of the city, and already the police believe that they have a clue which will lead to the arrest of one implicated party.

COURT OF APPEAL.

In Victoria Case Appellant Had Allowed Too Long to Elapse.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—The Court of Appeals disposed of the following cases: Madden vs. Dixon—This was an appeal from the judgment of McInnes, Co. J., in favor of the plaintiff on a contract for the sale and purchase of certain farm produce. The parties signed a memorandum in which defendant agreed to sell fifty tons of potatoes at $11 per ton and fifteen tons of cabbage at $20 per ton, f.o.b. Vancouver, January delivery, or sooner if the buyer needed. There was also stated to be a cash payment of five dollars "on account of the same." This amount was not paid, or offered to be paid until some weeks after.

J. W. DeB. Farris for appellant contended: The document was merely an offer, which, owing to a fluctuating market and the time allowed to run between the agreement and acceptance, lapsed. Further, the agreement was one-sided, except by implication, in that the plaintiff did not undertake to purchase.

R. W. Harris, K. C., for defendant: The defendant was asked specifically whether he intended to carry on the contract and gave no satisfactory answer. The agreement was completed on its face and was not either an option or an offer requiring acceptance to complete.

Per curiam: The appeal should be dismissed. There was a complete and binding contract when the parties signed, and the offer of payment of the five dollars at a subsequent date did not affect the intention of the parties.

Per Irving, J. A.: agreeing in dismissing the appeal. The sum of five dollars mentioned was or would be a payment on account.

Thomson vs. Stranz—Appeal from Grant, Co. J., in an action to recover commission on the sale of certain real estate. Plaintiff obtained a listing price and terms of a lot for sale, and having secured a purchaser, presented a receipt for a deposit payment. Defendant then said she was only a joint owner of the property, and the consent of the other owner would have to be obtained. The plaintiff undertook to see the other owner and obtain this consent, but was not successful.

The court (Irving, J. A. dissentent) denied the appeal on the ground that when plaintiff was informed that defendant was not the sole owner, he was put on his guard and should have proceeded no further in the transaction without the consent of the other owner.

Dumbleton vs. Cutler—Appeal from Lampman, Co. J., the appellant having allowed the time for giving notice to appeal to lapse, the court refused leave to enter the appeal now, following Baker vs. Kilpatrick, Y. B. C. R. I. Reid, K. C., for appellant; F. Higgins for respondent.

BUILD ANOTHER PUBLIC WHARF

LOCATED AT CORNER
DALLAS ROAD AND ERIC

City Council Decides to Co-Operate With Chemical Co. in Scheme

Victoria is to have another public wharf. This was decided at last evening's meeting of the streets committee of the council, when the following report was adopted:

"Gentlemen—We, your sub-committee, herewith report that we have examined the terminus of Dallas road, where it enters the sea near the chemical works, with a view to making an approach from Eric street along the Dallas road to the sea, and making use of a wharf which the Victoria Chemical Company have offered to construct. The wharf will be situated on Dallas road produced and could be used as a city wharf in conjunction with the chemical company. It is quite feasible to lower the grade at the intersection of Eric street and Dallas road a couple of feet and make the approach with an 8 per cent grade from the intersection of this street to the sea so that a useful wharf could be constructed. The company agree that if the city will erect the crib work and grade the road, that they will construct the balance of the filling required, and construct a wharf 20 x 25 feet with an approach 16 feet wide and approximately 100 feet long leading to the wharf.

We estimate that the city's portion will cost $400, and would recommend that the work be proceeded with.

Yours respectfully,

(Sgd.) "A. M. BANNERMAN,

"Chairman Streets Committee.

(Sgd.) "ANGUS SMITH,

"City Engineer."

The committee at its meeting last evening also decided to take no action with respect to the recent application of the city teamsters for an increase in pay from $6 per day to $7, but instead will leave the matter over for the incoming council to settle.

At the suggestion of the city solicitor the city council will remit to the Worswick Paying Company the cheque for 5 per cent of the cost of the asphalt pavements on Linden avenue, St. Charles street and Southgate street, the work having been completed. The city holds an amount equal to 15 per cent of the cost of the work as a guarantee of the lifetime of the pavement.

The company is now completing Cook street and as soon as that is finished the certified cheque put up guarantees that the company will carry out its contract there will also be returned.

Property owners on Fort street between the Oak Bay avenue junction and Belcher street are complaining of the delay in the work of improving the portion of the thoroughfare at the corner of Cook street and Leighton road.

Some time ago an appropriation was passed by the city for this work, but so far nothing has been done.

In addition the city council passed a resolution providing for a sidewalk on the south side of Fort street from the junction to Duchess street but it is still wanted. Now that the wet weather is at hand the walk is imperative. A deputation of owners which waited on the committee was informed that the city engineer would report on the reasons for the delay at once.

The committee had before it a complaint of A. Thornton, corner of Cook and Oxford streets, who stated that last year the then city engineer gave the grade of the street and on that grade the tramway company laid its tracks. Mr. Thornton erected his present business premises on the same grade, but recently the grade has been lowered 12 inches, which means that he must either lower his premises or secure entrance by steps. The city engineer stated that he had given no orders for the lowering of the grade which was being done without his sanction.

Alderman Mable declared the tramway company is now lowering its tracks at that point.

COAST SEASON SEVEN MONTHS

LOS ANGELES-PORTLAND
FANS LOSE TWO WEEKS

Hetting Case to Go to National Commission—Drawing
1911 Schedule

(Times Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Following last night's session of the directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, the committee on schedule met to-day at the St. Francis hotel to consider the playing schedule of 1911. It was announced that the session would be shortened by two weeks and that the teams next year would play 30 weeks of baseball instead of 32.

According to Judge Graham, who presided at last night's meeting, the season will open about the same time next year as it did in 1910, that is about March 28. It will close on or about October 28.

It is probable the deliberations of the schedule committee will occupy several days. The directors will meet again to-night, when a president and secretary for the ensuing year will be elected. Every indication points to the re-election of Judge Graham as president and D. W. Long as secretary.

If time permits, the question of the double whupie system also will be taken up to-night also the question of playing more games at Oakland during each series.

Among the routine measures passed upon last night was one permitting visiting teams 15 minutes batting practice before each game. Heretofore the home team has monopolized the entire time for batting practice.

A resolution was adopted prohibiting any club in the league from selling any player to another club in the league between September 1 and the close of the season. Upon the consent of the president, however, any club can loan a player to another club.

Secretary Long was instructed to appeal to the National Commission in the Hetting case, so that the league's rights and those of Walter McCleod in the matter may be adjudicated.

Gossip has it that Gray Oliver, a Los Angeles newspaperman, is candidate for the office of president. The directors, however, do not appear disposed to consider a change this year.

SAN FRANCISCO TRAGEDY.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 4.—"Give these to my baby, Harold, so that he may always remember his mother."

This simple note, attached to pair of baby's shoes, the police believe indicates the cause of a quarrel that resulted in the death of Mrs. Connie Gibbons Brown. Detectives are searching for Andrew Brown, the woman's husband, whom they say shot and instantly killed his wife.

Mrs. Brown, who had formerly been married, wanted to bring her two-year-old boy to live with them. Brown, whom it is alleged by the police married her after threatening to kill her unless she became his wife, objected. This was the cause of the quarrel which lasted some days.

Mrs. Brown is believed to have become despondent and went to her husband with the little shoes and the note. She is said to have told him that unless the child could come to her she would end her life. A violent quarrel followed. Shots were heard and the woman was found dead. Detectives say it would have been impossible for her to have shot herself and inflicted such a wound. The woman's husband disappeared and has not been found.

SPORT SPECIAL BY TIMES LEASED WIRE

New York, Nov. 5.—Christy Mathewson's salary for next year was announced to-day by President John T. Brush at $15,000. Like wine, the Giant star appears to improve with age as his salary last year was $10,000. In the post-season series alone he showed he was well worth the money. The announcement was not official but is accepted in baseball circles as correct. This is the highest salary ever paid a baseball player.

The union officials took no action regarding the Island soccer league. President Tait said this morning that no action would be taken until the Island league had mapped out its course. If it was found when the Island schedule has been drawn that it is likely to interfere with the standing of any of the Victoria players then the league may take some action.

A practice of the High School Rugby team will be held on Monday afternoon at the Royal Athletic park for the purpose of getting into trim for the next game with the University fifteen, on Wednesday, Nov. 16. W. Day, captain of the collegians, hopes that there will be a full turn-out of all Rugbists attending the school as several changes are to be made on the forward and three-quarter lines.

BUYS BIG MINE.

Granby Company Secures Control of Property on Observatory Inlet—Will Ship to Grand Forks.

The Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company has closed a deal for the purchase of 80 per cent. of the capital stock of the Hidden Creek Mining Company, owing a big copper mine on Observatory inlet near Prince Rupert, on a basis of half a million dollars for the property, says a Spokane dispatch. The interests acquired were held by J. M. and Ralph Higgins of Butte and New York. M. K. Rodgers, manager of the mine and owner of the remaining 20 per cent. of the stock, refusing to sell at any price. The mine is considerably developed and equipped. The property covers 6,000 acres of mineral claims, mostly patented, and a thousand acres of town and smelter site. The mine is located a quarter of a mile from tidewater.

The Granby propose to equip the property with a smelting plant and will ship low grade matte to its Grand Forks smelter for conversion. The estimated tonnage of ore in sight at the mine is 400,000 tons of average value of 3½ per cent. copper. The ore has a high excess of iron and sulphur, rendering it very valuable to Granby as an aid in reducing metal losses in slag and coke consumption and increasing the tonnage of siliceous ore which can be handled at the Grand Forks plant.

MORE POLICE PROTECTION.

Merritt Jury Recommends Increase of Provincial Force.

The coroner's jury empanelled to inquire into the cause of the death of an Indian, Billy Squakum at Merritt, found that he came to his death by a gunshot wound inflicted by James Snedden, a Middleboro miner, in self-defence. The verdict was in part as follows:

That deceased came to his death by a shotgun wound at the hands of James Snedden, on October 15, 1910, near Merritt.

That the said deceased was killed by the said James Snedden in self-defence as we find as a fact that at the time the said gun was discharged the said Snedden was in danger of his life.

That we hereby exonerate the said Snedden from all blame in connection with the death of the said deceased, and that he should be honorably discharged.

We further recommend that additional and more adequate police protection be forthwith provided for the town of Merritt and vicinity.

AUTO RACES.

Speed Records Will Probably Be Broken at Savannah on November 12.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 5.—All records for speed will be smashed, it is said, when the pick of the world's racing cars are sent away from the mark here on November 12, in the second annual grand prix race of America. The race will be run over 24 laps of a 2.7-1.0 mile course. No restrictions have been placed on manufacturers who are entering all sorts of快cars as a result. The winner will receive $4,000 in cash, second, $2,000, and third, $1,000.

In addition, the Savannah challenge trophy, a race for lighter cars of 18 laps, and the Tie-de-mem trophy race for small cars, 11 laps, will be run. A quarter of a million spectators are expected to witness the races. Arrangements have been made for a regiment of militia to police the course.

TRAWLER'S ADVENTURE.

Unexpected Voyage of an Icelandic Magistrate to Hull on Fishing Vessel.

The Hull trawler Chieftain, which arrived in the Humber recently, had on board M. Bjornsson, an Icelandic magistrate and revenue officer, who, as reported in these columns the other day, boarded the vessel in order to seize it for fishing, he alleged, within the territorial waters of Iceland. Also on board was an Icelandic pilot.

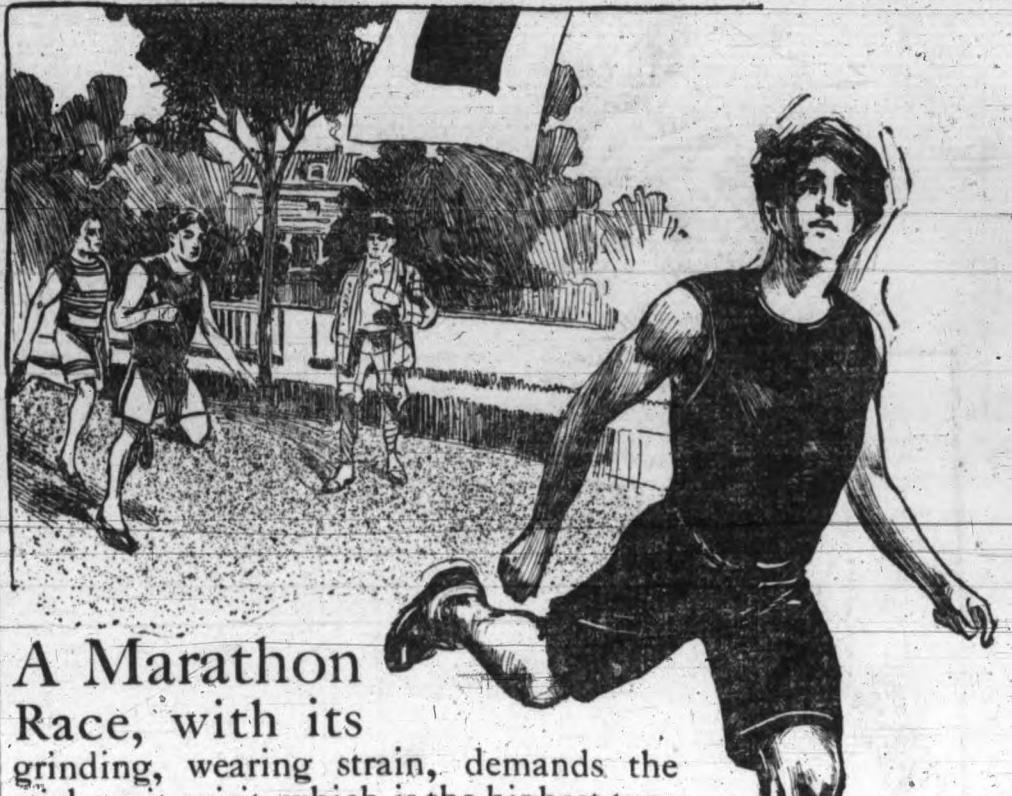

The skipper, Edward West, in a statement regarding the incident, said that he was fishing five and a half miles off Iceland when he was haled by an Icelandic watch boat and told he was fishing within the three miles limit. The watch boat interrupted the fishing operations and finally steamed alongside. Two men—the magistrate and the pilot—jumped on board and ordered him to haul his gear and come with them. The skipper declared he was not within the three miles limit and refused to go, but the watch boat kept crossing the course in which the trawler was towing her gear, until at length the skipper was compelled to haul gear.

He offered, he states, to anchor until daylight and to leave his buoys down as an indication of where the trawler was fishing, but the magistrate firmly refused to take any action, although the skipper suggested that he should telegraph for a gunboat to decide whether the trawler was within the three miles limit or not.

The skipper then informed the magistrate that he was going further afield to fish and requested him to return to his own vessel. The magistrate did not do so, and the trawler proceeded at half-speed, the watch boat following in her wake. A strong wind arose, and the skipper, finding it impossible to continue his fishing operations, left for Hull.

The Danish consul interviewed the magistrate and the pilot at Hull.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Charles E. Richardson endeavored to end her life yesterday by jumping into False creek from the Granville street bridge. After alighting in the water she was kept afloat by her clothing and succeeded in reaching a pier of the bridge to which she managed to cling till help arrived.

Mrs. Richardson was rescued by a police officer whose attention was called by the screams of the woman. The woman was rushed in the patrol to the police station where she received the first medical help.

Last night she was progressing satisfactorily and her condition is considered as not serious.

It is thought that through despondency following the loss of her only child about three months ago, Mrs. Richardson was driven to attempt self-destruction.

STREET SCHEME

running from Broad to Douglas was too low. In his opinion, Bastion street should be included in striking the assessment.

Ald. Mable was also of the opinion that the proposed assessment of the property lying between Broad and Douglas was too low. The Driard House, for instance, would be made an immediately more valuable piece of property.

The mayor thought that Bastion street, running from Government to Wharf, would benefit to at least five per cent.

Other members of the board considered that it would be an equitable arrangement to assess properties between Broad and Douglas at least 20 per cent.

The mayor urged that 50 per cent be charged on the block to be opened and 25 per cent on the block between Broad and Douglas.

Ald. Raymond believed that a special committee of the council should be appointed to take the matter up with Henry Young & Co., as it would be necessary to get their consent before the expropriation scheme could be proceeded with.

The mayor said he had that afternoon gone off to the question with Harry Young and Cuylor Holland, of the B. G. Land and Investment Agency, agents for the Douglas Bros., who own the lot on which the Young Company's store stood. Mr. Young was quite agreeable to the proposed arrangement, but Mr. Holland declined to give his approval without first having obtained the consent of Douglas Bros.

Ald. Raymond asked if it would be possible to expropriate the whole of the lot used by the Young Company.

The mayor was of the opinion that this was not feasible, in that the act provided that the property expropriated must be actually required for street purposes. There ought to be no difficulty, however, in Messrs. Young and the Douglas Brothers coming together.

Ald. Raymond pointed out that if the city proceeded to expropriate just the portion required for the street the remaining piece of the lot would be assessed at a higher figure than it was actually worth.

The mayor said that in the expropriation the Douglas Bros. would get practically the whole value of the lot. Referring to the question of the width of the new section of View street, the mayor moved that the present lines of View street from Douglas to Broad be followed through to Government.

This was seconded by Ald. Mable and carried. The street will thus be 60 feet in width.

After an explanation from the city solicitor as to the legal rights of the council in fixing assessments on property benefiting from any improvement necessitating the expropriation of property, the mayor expressed the opinion that the council should assess the owners in the first block 50 per cent, and adjust the other amounts which owners would have to pay on the assessed value as far east as School street and possibly down Bastion street also.

Ald. Bannerman was of the opinion that the owners along Bastion street would not object to being assessed a small amount to have the improvement made.

Ald. Langley was in favor of a committee being appointed to go into these details and report back to the council.

The mayor opposed this idea, contending that it be pushed ahead promptly. He would like to see the by-laws prepared for presentation to the council on Monday night.

Ald. Raymond was opposed to asking the owners along Bastion street to pay any part of the cost of the extension. If an attempt were made to do so, it would, in his opinion, have the effect of killing the whole project.

Ald. McKeown was of the opinion that it would be unwise to have the assessment run above Cook street, and after some discussion on that point it was decided to limit the area to be assessed as from Government to Cook street.

In quick fashion thereafter decisions were reached on the question of apportioning the assessment in the various blocks and the type of pavement and the width of the sidewalk. The first block will pay 50 per cent on a frontage basis and the remaining 50 per cent will be collected on the property extending from Broad to Cook streets on a straight assessment basis.

The block running from Broad to Douglas will pay 25 per cent, from Douglas to Blanchard 10 per cent, from Blanchard to Quadra 7 per cent, from Quadra to Vancouver 5 per cent, and from Vancouver to Cook 3 per cent.

"This makes the full 100 per cent, and the city will pay the balance," remarked Ald. Bannerman, amidst laughter.

There followed some discussion as to what proportion of the cost of the improvement, pavement, walks, etc., the city should pay, and it was decided that a fair amount would be one-third.

It was determined to lay down sidewalks 10 feet in width from Government right up to Cook and to lay a pavement of wood blocks on the section from Broad to Government.

Both the expropriation and assessment by-laws will be introduced at Monday evening's meeting of the council. The by-laws will then have to be advertised for a period of fifteen days, after which the work may be taken in hand.

WILL STAY OUT.

New York Express Drivers Insist Upon Recognition of Union.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Striking employees of the six transcontinental express companies here indirectly received assurance from the state board of mediators today, that their grievances would be favorably listened to if they would consent to forego their cardinal demand for recognition of their union, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

In a mass meeting tonight, the men resolved that they would stay out until the union is recognized. Their action was the one positive development of the day. The only action taken by the mayor was to uphold the city ordinance requiring that all the express drivers must be licensed by the city department of strikebreakers. The companies, in a statement issued today, reiterated that "the larger number of wagons, and, in the case of some of the companies, all the wagons, are engaged in interstate commerce and as such are not subject to local regulations."

"The situation seems more serious than for the last two days," said William C. Rogers of the State Board of Mediation and Arbitration, tonight. "But we are not without hope of a speedy settlement."

Daniel J. Tobey, president of the brotherhood, intimated rather than threatened, that if "matters did not soon clear," he might recommend to the national executive board a general strike of all teamsters of the country.

"And my recommendations are usually adopted by the board," he added.

"In the event of such a call, 170,000 men would walk out."

PORTER CHARLTON'S CASE.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—The record of the case of Porter Charlton, wanted in Italy for the alleged murder of his wife, Mary Scott Castle Charlton, was submitted to-day to the state department for decision relative to possible extradition. No action will be taken by the department in the matter until Secretary Knox returns, which will be some time next month.

Ald. Raymond was asked to assist in the preparation of the by-laws.

Ald. Bannerman was of the opinion that the owners along Bastion street would not object to being assessed a small amount to have the improvement made.

Ald. Langley was in favor of a committee being appointed to go into these details and report back to the council.

The mayor opposed this idea, contending that it be pushed ahead promptly. He would like to see the by-laws prepared for presentation to the council on Monday night.

Ald. Raymond was opposed to asking the owners along Bastion street to pay any part of the cost of the extension. If an attempt were made to do so, it would, in his opinion, have the effect of killing the whole project.

Ald. McKeown was of the opinion architecture and the same material, brick, as the structure to which it will be addition.

It had been the intention of Mr. Jones to proceed with the work of building at an even earlier date, but the plans, which had been in course of preparation by S. MacIure, the architect, were unfortunately lost in the fire which destroyed the F. S. Sisters' block where Mr. MacIure had offices. It is a guarantee that the building will contain every modern and up-to-date feature that the plans are being prepared by Mr. MacIure, whose artistic talents are reflected in many handsome homes and other structures which adorn Victoria as a result of his supervision.

The new wing to the Dominion will provide 40 additional rooms for the hotel. Fifteen of these rooms will have baths. There will be ten large sample-rooms, up-to-date in every particular, it being Mr. Jones' intention to give commercial travellers visiting Victoria what they have long stood in need of—the same large, roomy and commodious sample-rooms, specially constructed for that purpose, that they find in all the larger cities of the continent.

A first class laundry will be established in the basement of the new wing and there will be a vacuum cleaning plant. The court in the present building will be reconstructed and made into palm and commodious lounge rooms. As work on the new building proceeds, the entire interior of the present structure will be remodelled and renovated so as to conform with the modern arrangements which will be a feature of the new block—with the result that Mr. Jones will be able to boast the possession in the new Dominion of one of the most home-like, commodious and up-to-date hotels to be found in Western Canada.

Work on the structure will start almost immediately, Mr. Jones planning to have it open for business in July next. The cost of the new addition will be in the neighborhood of $60,000. The ground floor is to be so designed as to have three or four large stores.

The Dominion hotel, with the new addition, will have a frontage of no less than 180 feet on Yates street, making it one of the most imposing structures on a thoroughfare which is rapidly assuming great prominence as a business centre.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

I wonder if women, as a rule, realize how intensely and consistently most men hate perfume.

I was speaking of the way in which men who smoke leave the taint of their habit upon you, if they so much as shake your hand.

"I rather like the smell of fresh tobacco smoke," I said, "but the stale odor that smoking leaves on hangings and draperies, and that clings around most men who smoke a great deal, I hate. Why, if you dance with such a man or shake hands with him you can smell that stale odor on yourself the rest of the evening."

"Is it any worse than the way women disseminate the odor of perfumery?" demanded the other party to the discussion.

"As a proof of his disinterestedness in the argument, let me mention that the other party does not smoke at all.

"No nice woman uses perfumery," I protested.

"Yes, they do," he insisted. "Well, maybe not strong perfumery, but some kind of scent. My mother, now, insists she doesn't use perfumery, but her handkerchief always has some kind of an odor."

"Why, that's because she keeps them in a sachet," I explained, "almost everyone does that."

"Exactly," said the other party, "that's what I mean. I don't know whether the smell is wet or dry, or whether it comes out of a bottle or through a cloth; but it's there, and you can't dance with most girls without smelling it on your hands, and I don't like it, and neither do most men."

That's a new point of view to me.

Of course, I always knew that the use of any strong perfume was extremely bad form.

I dislike, as much as any man, to sit next a woman on the train or car who has drenched her handkerchief in some strong toilet water before saluting forth to conquest.

But I had never thought that the placing of sachets in one's clean linen was any other than a dainty habit.

Perhaps the other party had an obsession on the subject? Perhaps he is particularly sensitive to odor?

I can't say for sure. All I know is that he very warmly scented this hypothesis when I suggested it, and that other men whom I have since consulted hold similar views to his.

Already I can picture to myself the letter I am going to receive from the aggressive young person.

She is going to say, "You needn't think we are going to stop using sachets just because men don't like them. There are some women who don't think about what men like all the time."

Right—O, aggressive young person. But this isn't a command to stop using sachets. It's just a presentation of a point of view that was new and interesting to me, and that I thought might be the same to other women.

THE CLEF CLUB.

The Clef Club, a musical organization recently established in this city, announces its intention of putting on the opera, "The Chimes of Normandy" early in the season of 1911. The club has been fortunate in securing the services of E. Pfeiffer as musical director and Mr. Ullman as dramatic instructor and stage manager. Some of the best talent of the city have already expressed their willingness to take part in the production and a successful presentation of the opera is assured.

The first general practice will be held next Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the club rooms, Woodward block, Yates street, over F. R. Stewart & Co's.

FORTIFICATION OF PANAMA CANAL

French Diplomatist Who Drew Up Treaty Gives His Opinion on It

Paris, Nov. 4.—"The United States has no right under treaty to construct a vast system of permanent fortifications at Panama."

Philippe Bunau-Varilla, who wrote the treaty which was signed by Secretary John Hay and himself, and which is in force to-day, made this statement slowly and with emphasis. "It was M. Bunau-Varilla, the French engineer, who conceived the scheme and negotiated the adoption of the canal by the United States, acting as the plenipotentiary of Panama, the newly formed republic.

Since it was he who made the history, he was in a position to speak. And from no phase of this history could he find justification for creating a system of fortifications of a permanent character at either terminus of the canal.

"I confess," he continued, "that if I were an American I should be embarrassed, strongly embarrassed, between the possible need of fortifications and the duty not to build them. For the choice must be made. With the canal cut, and the Pacific fleet of the United States sunk, by the Japanese, say, without fortifications the way to the Atlantic coast of America would be short and easy. It is not a thought to bring repose to the national mind. But world-wide conditions are to-day what they were when the treaty covering the canal was drawn up. And at that time the erection of a system of permanent fortifications was not in our thoughts. But I will quote the articles in the treaty bearing on the subject and explain what is meant by them."

"Article II. of the Hay-Bunau-Varilla treaty stipulated that: 'The Republic of Panama grants to the United States in perpetuity the use, occupation and control of a zone of land and land under water, for the construction, maintenance, operation, sanitation and protection of said canal, of the width of 10 miles extending to the distance of five miles of the centre line of the route of the canal to be constructed. The Republic of Panama further grants to the United States in perpetuity the use, occupation and control of any other lands and waters outside the zone above described which may be necessary and convenient for the construction, maintenance, operation, sanitation and protection of the said canal, or of the auxiliary canals or other works for the construction, maintenance, operation, sanitation and protection of said enterprise.'

"Further on, Article XXIII, gives to the United States the right of using armed force for the protection of the canal if it should become necessary at any time, as, for example, in the event of menace to the canal, filibustering expeditions, local insurrections, or other kindred dangers. The United States is given the right, under this paragraph, to use its army, its navy, its police or all of them, or may build fortifications as extensive as are necessary to cope with the danger and to secure the necessary protection."

"While the question of fortifications is thus specifically dealt with, it must be borne in mind that the whole thing was for the cutting and maintenance of a canal. One must not forget this one object of the treaty, for water cannot rise higher than its source. And the treaty specifically provides that the canal shall be open to the ships of all nations on equal terms. The Hay-Pauncefote treaty stipulates that the canal shall be neutral and that therefore no act of war shall be committed therein."

"I should say that actual, small fortifications capable of harboring a hundred men, or so, could very well come within the meaning of the treaty. For there are menaces of more or less grave nature always at hand; marauders armed with dynamite, possible the unstable governments of Central America which now and then undergo revolutions, etc. But the erection of a vast system of permanent fortifications is entirely outside the treaty. The United States may build the fortifications under the Monroe Doctrine, perhaps, or in some other way which is not for me to discuss, but such fortifications would come outside of—I won't say they would be a violation of—the treaty."

"Colombia, in the early days threw every conceivable hindrance in the way of a canal. She made herself unpopular all over the world by the opposition to the scheme which meant so much to the commerce of the nations. Colombia had certain rights, the rights of a sovereign power, in the matter, but there is one thing higher than such a right, the right of free circulation of humanity over the seas or its connecting channels."

"The United States now possesses such rights at Panama as Colombia formerly possessed. If the United States in any way fails to accord to every nation alike precisely the same privileges in using the canal, the United States will be practically in the same position before the world as was Colombia. The right of the world's free use of the seas must stand higher than the sovereign rights of any one nation, and the waters of a canal, like the Panama canal, are considered by the nations in the same light as is the open sea. Without menace and without obstruction, however small, such a canal should be open to every vessel, in peace or in war."

"Permanent fortifications at Panama, while bringing more protection to the United States, would also bring on more dangers. The one can't be had without the other. I don't believe that any of the countries of Europe would consider a strong fort at either end of the canal a direct menace or a threat. I can't conceive of a war between the United

DO YOU WANT FREE CAR FARE FOR A WHOLE YEAR?

If you are a "strap-holder," you'll appreciate the importance of that little matter of car fare, which amounts to a considerable sum in the course of a year, and you'll be interested in a proposition that offers you FREE CAR TICKETS for a whole year—and every year.

Monterey Place offers just such a proposition. Figure it out this way: You have a house in Victoria worth $3,000 on a lot worth $1,000. Your taxes will amount to at least $65.00 each year. Build the same house on a lot in Monterey Place and the taxes will amount to only $13.00—less, because there are no lots as high as $1,000. 1/4-acre lots are only $800. You save at least $52.00 each year, and this amount will more than pay your car fare for a whole year.

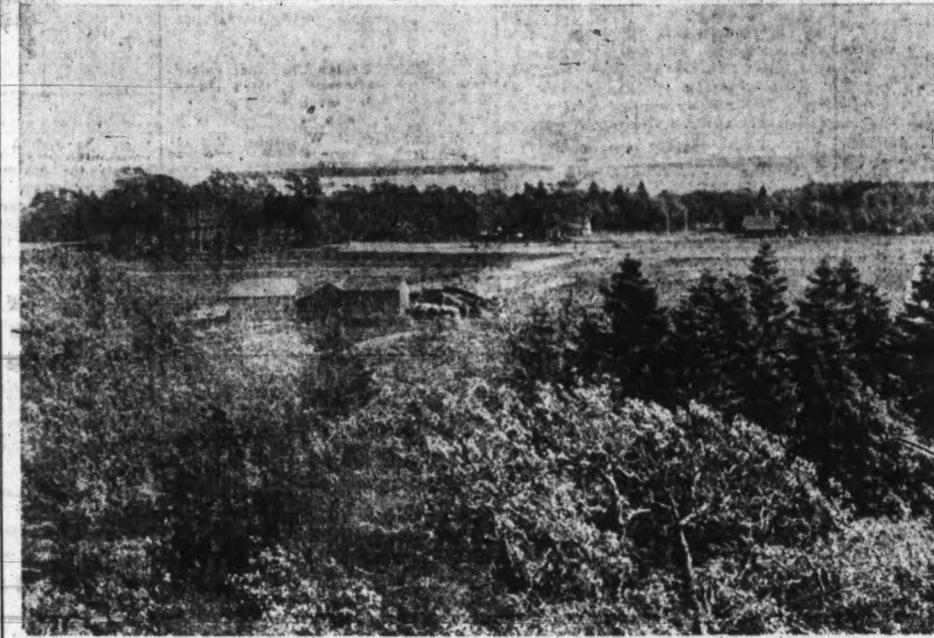

If you use the street car now, you should use the cars that serve Monterey Place, because the service is the best in the city, and the cars that run in that direction are the best on the company's lines.

Monterey Place is only three minutes' easy walk from the Oak Bay car—not from the terminus, but from where Monterey Avenue or Hampshire Road crosses Oak Bay Avenue.

To the man of business who doesn't yet enjoy the luxury of an automobile, and who wishes the comforts and pleasures of a suburban home in a charming location, this item of Free Car Fare is worth consideration.

The laborer will be the better fitted for his work through living in a healthy spot such as Monterey Place and the matter of car fare needn't worry him—it will cost him nothing.

next time you don't feel just right, let us buy a 50-cent bottle of Psychine from your druggist to give you to cure your indisposition and prevent worse ailments.

This being ill is curious business. It usually commences in a subtle way—remarkable cures.

Yet if you do not check your illness, it grows and grows.

And one fine day you find you're sick.

The greatest scavengers of the body are the white corpuscles, or phagocytes in the blood.

These white corpuscles attack and eat up every germ of disease that invades the body.

That is when they are strong enough and in sufficient numbers.

If they're not strong enough, then they wage an unequal warfare until they are finally overcome by their more powerful enemies.

The body becomes steadily sicker and sicker until actual disease sets in.

Now, we have had all sorts of so-called cures.

And a great many people have seriously endangered their health experimenting with them.

But years ago—before even science was able to tell we had the right treatment for disease—viz., herbs, nature's own remedies.

Now that science can tell us an absolute certainty, we know why certain herbs cure disease.

Because they strengthen and increase the white corpuscles or phagocytes.

Given Up by the Doctors And Prepared to Die

"Fruit-a-Tives" Saved Her Life

The days of miracles have not passed away. Every day—almost every hour—"Fruit-a-tives" is performing miracles of healing in some part of our country! One does not ordinarily think of miracles in connection with fruit juices—and yet it is fruit juices that are changing sick, helpless, and sometimes dying, people into happy, healthy men and women. Here is just one case in which the cure made by "Fruit-a-tives" was nothing short of a miracle.

Madame Tourangeau suffered for eleven years and was finally given up to die by her physicians. Yet "Fruit-a-tives"—the marvellous remedy made of fruit juices completely cured her and restored her to health.

Here is her letter—read it—study it—profit by it.

Rivière à la Plaine, Co. Portneuf, Que., May 9th, 1910.

I look upon my recovery as nothing short of a miracle. I was for eleven years, constantly, suffering from Chronic Dyspepsia and Indigestion with Constipation. This last two years of illness, I was confined to my bed nearly all the time. I was treated by several doctors and they simply did me no good. During the latter part of my illness, I was so thin that I weighed only 90 pounds, and I vomited everything I ate. Even water would not stay on my stomach.

The doctors gave me up to die as the stomach trouble produced heart weakness and I was frequently unconscious. I received the Last Rites of the Church and looked forward to death in a short time. I was reduced to a skeleton.

At this time, a lady friend strongly urged me to try "Fruit-a-tives" and how thankful I am that I did so. When I had taken one box, I was much better and after three boxes, I was practically well again and had gained 20 pounds. I have taken 13 boxes in all and now weigh 150 pounds and am absolutely well—no pain—no indigestion—no constipation—my heart is sound—and complexion clear.

For the sake of other sufferers, I give you permission to publish my letter and photograph.

The stomach is a bag about a foot long and six inches wide, covered by a muscular coat and lined with delicate membrane. This lining membrane should pour out for each meal about a pint of Digestive Fluid called Gastric Juice, which dissolves or digests the food.

Gastric Juice comes from the blood—and the only way to have strong, active Gastric Juice is to keep the blood pure by keeping the bowels and kidneys regular, and the skin active.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Indigestion, Sour Stomach and Chronic Dyspepsia because the fruit juices act on liver, bowels, kidneys and skin, purifying the blood. "Fruit-a-tives" relieves any irritation in the stomach—strengthens the muscular coat—and ensures the Gastric Juice being full strength and abundant. Any Stomach Weakness or Trouble of Digestion, by all means take "Fruit-a-tives." 50c a box—6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. Sent on receipt of price, if your dealer does not handle them, by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

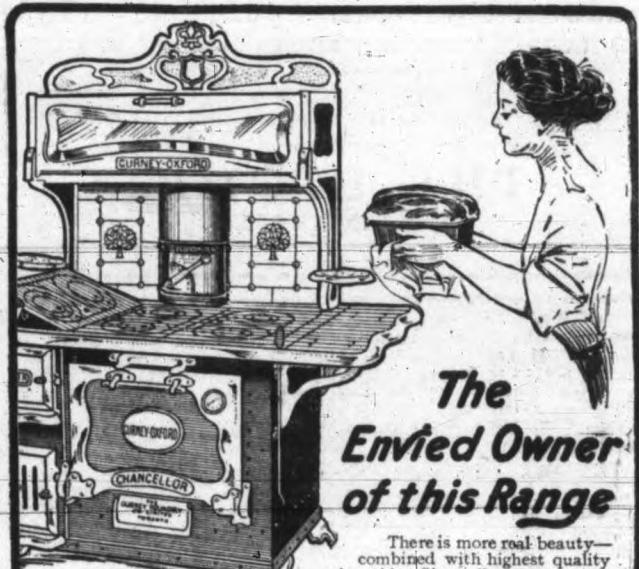

MADAME ARTHUR TOURANGEAU.

During digestion, the muscular coat squeezes and presses the food from one end of the stomach to the other, and this churning mixes the food with the Gastric Juice. If the food is not churned properly, or if the Gastric Juice is weak—the food is not dissolved properly, and Indigestion and Chronic Dyspepsia result.

TRIUMPH OF THE WELSH LADIES' CHOIR

Won All Hearts by the Artistic Excellence of Their Concert.

Back to the hills and dales of their lovely native land the Welsh folks of Victoria were carried in imagination last evening while listening to the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir. And not only were the "Cymri" transported. Every lover of music in the vast audience which filled the Victoria theatre was moved by an enthusiasm little less strong than that which animated their fellow-citizens who had come from the Principality.

The concert was by all odds the finest musical event in Victoria for years, and the choir, although small, is easily the most perfect body of vocal artists which has ever honored this city by a visit. Madame Hughes-Thomas, who has made the choir what it is, and the young ladies who compose it are all highly gifted. In the choruses and part-songs there is perfect sympathy between them. The girls seem to lose themselves in the music, and unmindful of aught material save the baton of their conductor follow through the intricacies of the music without a falter or a slip. While it would be invidious to pick out one selection, where all were so beautifully rendered—any more than one soloist, where each is an artist by birth and training—the perfection of rapport between leader and singers was probably most evident in the "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore." The soprano part of Leonore, sung by Miss Jessie Emmanuel, the tenor part rendered by Miss Nansi Langdon, who has a remarkably fine contralto voice, and the notes of the litany by the choir blended in one unapproachable harmony. It is no exaggeration to say that not an operatic company can surpass the choir in this number, and Miss Emmanuel showed a dramatic conception of the part, moreover, that many a nightingale-voiced prima donna is innocent of a deep.

Miss Alice M. Lewis has a deep contralto of much strength and great range, and she was heard in a solo, "The Enchantress," as well as in a duet with Miss Emmanuel, the latter also having a solo "Cymru Fydd" (Wales Forever). Miss Megan Harries, a lovely mezzo-soprano, sang "The Dear Homeland" with a hint of the tears which are in the music. One of the most appealing solo selections was Sullivan's "Poor Wandering One," sung by Miss Beatrice Langford, whose flute-like voice was heard to great advantage. Miss Nansi Langdon sang "My Aja Folla," and had to respond, like all the others, to a recall.

For the first portion of the programme the young ladies were dressed in the picturesque Welsh national costume, and for the second they wore the simple eisteddfod gown of white, with a purple scarf from left shoulder to the right side of the skirt.

During the evening a beautiful bouquet from the Welsh Society was presented to Madame Hughes-Thomas by little Miss Jean Spencer, and later a spray of chrysanthemums from the Ladies' Musical Society was presented.

To-morrow (Sunday) evening the choir will be heard in the Victoria theatre in some of the sacred music for which Wales is famous. The concert will commence at 8.30, and there will be a collection at the door. No children under sixteen will be admitted.

Social Receptions.

Socially, the ladies of the choir have been the objects of great attention since their arrival, not only from the Welsh people of Victoria, but from the various musical and women's organizations.

On the arrival of the steamer Alfred Petch, president of the Welsh Society, and Mrs. Jenkins, vice-president, immediately went on board and conveyed a warm welcome to Victoria to them. Mr. Petch, speaking in their mother tongue, of course, wished them a pleasant visit to this most lovely of cities, as he phrased it. The choir were afterwards escorted to their hotel, and after a reception was held in the Alexandra Club.

To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the Welsh Society will conduct the choir on an auto drive about the city and the immediate country.

BORNE TO REST WITH MILITARY HONORS

Funeral of Sergeant G. E. Berkeley, of the Fifth Regiment, This Afternoon

THIRD DEGREE IN PORTLAND JAIL

Prisoner Declares Man Required Medical Attention as Result of Treatment

Borne to his last resting place on a gun carriage, the remains of the late Cecil Eustace Berkeley were interred in Ross Bay cemetery this afternoon. The cortège left the Christ Church schoolroom at 2.30 o'clock and proceeded to the cathedral, where the Fifth Regiment, C. G. A., and the Boy Scouts brigade were drawn up. As the gun carriage passed through the files the soldiers and scouts were brought to the present.

The cathedral was filled with sympathizing friends, who greatly regretted the death of Mr. Berkeley. Many of his former schoolmates were also in attendance. The services conducted at the church by Dean Doull, assisted by Rev. T. B. Heneage, chaplain of the Fifth Regiment, and Rev. W. Barton, chaplain of the Boy Scouts, were very impressive. Each of the pastors made reference to the severe loss the various organizations, of which the deceased was a member, have sustained through his death. Among the hymns sung were: "On the Resurrection Morn," "Now the Laborer's Task Is O'er" and "Fight the Good Fight."

As the cortège left the cathedral for the cemetery the Fifth Regiment band, which headed the procession, played the dead march in "Saul." Following came the gun carriage on which was mounted the casket covered with the Union Jack, the flag which he as a volunteer has loyalty supported for the past eleven years. The regiment, under the command of Lieut.-Colonel Currie, followed the carriage, after which came the Scouts, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Hall. Members of "B" troop, of which the late Mr. Berkeley was scoutmaster, wore crepes on their left arms out of respect for their leader.

At the graveside further services were conducted by Revs. Mr. Heneage and Mr. Barton, at the conclusion of which the customary services of the regiment were performed. Trumpeter A. M. Kent sounded the "last post" after which the firing party, under the command of C. S. M. Lorimer, fired three volleys.

The numerous floral offerings which were presented testified in no small degree to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Floral designs were sent by the sergeants' mess of the Fifth Regiment and No. 1 company, and by the Scouts.

Six of his fellow sergeants in No. 1 company acted as pallbearers: C. S. Nesbitt, Sergt. Ross, Sergt. Parker, Sergt. Rochfort, Sergt. Smith and Sergt. Kroeger.

OFFER REJECTED.

After they returned, the announcement said, a committee would be appointed to consider wages and hours.

The union men refused to accept and will treat with the express companies only as union men. If this proposition is not accepted, a general strike will be called Monday.

The average person trims off the thirty-second part of an inch from each finger nail a week, or about an inch and a half every year. The average of human life all over the world is forty years. ## THIRD DEGREE IN PORTLAND JAIL

Portland, Ore., Nov. 5.—The fate of Mrs. Carrie Kersh, charged with complicity in the murder of William A. Johnson at the Grand Central hotel on June 20, was placed in the hands of the jury shortly before noon after Judge Morrow had instructed them. The court's instructions were considered favorable to Mrs. Kersh.

During the afternoon session yesterday Webb created a furor by the declaration that third degree methods were being used in the city jail of Portland to extract confessions from prisoners. Webb, who is under sentence of death for murdering Johnson, was testifying in Mrs. Kersh's behalf.

Speaking in connection with the alleged existence of the third degree method Webb said:

"There's a man down at the county jail now who had to have a doctor for three days after he came up from the city jail. The third degree is worked in Portland. I am sentenced to be hanged and the end is near. I would not sit here before you and tell things that are untrue while I am in the shadow of death."

Webb reiterated his previous declaration that Mrs. Kersh did not aid or abet him in slaying Johnson, nor did she know, he said, that the crime had been committed.

ATTACK BY AFGHANS.

London, Nov. 5.—A dispatch received here yesterday by a newspaper agency from Peshawar, says that a British invasion of Persia had begun recently.

It was stated that the commander and officers of the British cruiser Proserpine had been wounded in a pitched battle.

It turns out, however, that the affair had nothing to do with Persia. Sixty men who had landed from the Proserpine near Chah Bar, in Beluchistan, had taken up with Afghan gun runners, in which the captain of the Proserpine and another officer of the vessel were wounded, slightly.

Chah Bar is 380 miles from Lingah, and in another country.

Japan has the cheapest domestic postal service in the world, letters being carried to and from the Empire for about seven-tenths of a cent.

Port Alberni

You can safely invest your money in Port Alberni. As we previously told you, Port Alberni property is the best buy on the whole Pacific Coast of America. Outside of the enormous trade to be developed with the Orient steamers, the steamers trading via the Panama canal (and here let me say the insurance rate on ocean-going steamers is cheaper into Port Alberni than into Vancouver, B.C., which cheapness of rates eliminates the so-called danger of passage up the Alberni canal, the only drawback that is ever put forward as against Port Alberni being the best ocean port of the whole Pacific Coast). Outside of the fact that Port Alberni is the terminus of two transcontinental railway lines, we have enough timber, mineral and farming land alone to develop a city of fifty thousand population. To those who wish to invest, I may say that at some future date the C.P.R. and C.N. railroads will run to the northern end of Vancouver Island, but you will have mountains of time in which to clean up large sums by investment in Port Alberni, with which, when the proper time arrives, to buy at the northern end of this island. We will give you due notice of said time. We have a LIMITED number of GOOD BUYS in Port Alberni, ACREAGE, SUBDIVISION LOTS AND INSIDE LOTS.

Among the City Churches

ANGLICAN.

Shawnigan—Last Sunday Bishop Perrin instituted Rev. C. W. Winch as rector of Cobble Hill and Shawnigan. Mr. Winch will carry on the good work commenced by J. Nightingale, who for many years was a lay reader and kept up the services faithfully throughout the parish. At Shawnigan a movement is on foot to build a much-needed Anglican church. At present the services are being held in Methodist mission hall, but an effort of a site from Major Dundas has started the movement in earnest for a new building. It is expected that a neat and commodious church will be erected and finished in time for the summer when the visitors come in such large numbers to enjoy their holidays at the lake.

REFORMED EPISCOPAL.

Church of Our Lord.

Sunday Services—Rev. T. W. Gladstone will deliver a special Protestant sermon to-morrow morning in honor of the fifth of November, his subject being "Christ's Two Witnesses—A Prophetic Foreview of the Reformation." In the evening the subject will be "Wells of Water."

CONGREGATIONAL.

First Church.

Visiting Preacher—Last Sunday the Rev. E. Tremayne Dunstan, of Seattle, preached in the Congregational church and his services were much appreciated by large congregations. On Monday evening Mr. Dunstan delivered a lecture on "Wit and Humor in the Pulpit" which kept the audience wreathed in smiles, with occasional outbursts of hearty laughter the whole evening. Mr. Dunstan is a very pleasing speaker and will always be a welcome visitor to Victoria.

Boys' Scout Banquet—Last Wednesday evening the first annual banquet of Troops G. and H. Boy Scouts held their initial banquet. Over 150 sat down to the tables in the preparation of which they had been very kindly assisted by members of the Ladies' Aid Society. The room was tastefully decorated in appropriate colors by the boys and altogether the affair was admirably managed. The toast list was a long one, but every item was thoroughly enjoyed. Rev. H. A. Carson presided and called for a response to the toast of the King. All responded by singing the National Anthem. N. Collins then sang "The Boys of the Old Brigade," and the toast to the "Chief Scout" was replied to by the Hon. and Rev. T. R. Heage. The Provincial Boy Scout Association was represented by Lieut.-Col. Hall, who made an excellent speech full of enthusiasm and optimism. The boys cheered lustily for the Colonel and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" as only boys can. Rev. W. E. Barton responded to the toast of the Victoria Boy Scout Association and spoke of the initiation and development of the movement in Victoria, emphasizing the fact that the prime purpose of the association is the development of character. Miss Brak spoke for the Victoria Girl Guides in a neat speech and Col. Currie made plenty of fun for the boys by his humorous reply to the toast of "Our Guests." The toast to "Our Church" was replied to by A. Howell, senior deacon; "O. Troop" by J. E. Andrews, scout master, and "H. Troop" by J. Wheeler, scout master. Miss W. Scowcroft and Messrs. Collins and Sears supplied the musical events of the evening. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the ladies and the chairman closed the very pleasant and successful evening with a few congratulatory remarks.

Young People's Society—On Monday evening the devotional meeting of the Y. P. S. will be held, the subject for discussion being "Good Cheer for Dark Days." The young people are arranging for a birthday party on Nov. 14, and are looking forward to a good time.

Men's Own—On Tuesday next the Men's Own organization will give a concert in the school room. Among those who have kindly consented to assist are Mrs. W. E. Staneland, Mrs. Gleason, Miss N. Scowcroft and R. Morrison, J. Dunford, W. Hunt and Gunison. The programme will be an excellent one and should attract a large congregation.

Ladies' Bible Class—The members of the Ladies' Bible Class are tendering a complimentary social to the members of the Men's Own next Wednesday evening. A very interesting time is expected and the ladies intend to give the men a real treat. In consequence of this gathering G. and H. troops of the Boy Scouts will meet together on Friday evening next. The boys are asked to remember this change.

PRESBYTERIAN.

First Church.

Hallowe'en Concert—The annual Hallowe'en concert given by the choir of First church last Monday was a great success. The programme was fully up to previous years in quality and quantity, and the large audience were very enthusiastic in the applause given to the various singers. Mr. Brown and the choir are to be congratulated upon the success of the concert.

Missionary Gathering—There was a large number of ladies present last Tuesday afternoon when Rev. Dr. MacKay, general secretary of missions; Rev. Dr. Fraser Campbell, of India, and Rev. G. A. Wilson, superintendent of home missions, gave addresses on missionary work. The visitors expressed great pleasure at the deep interest being taken by the ladies of First church in this important work.

Sunday Services—Dr. Campbell, the pastor, will continue the topic of missions at the services to-morrow, which was so ably commenced last Sunday by Rev. Dr. MacKay. On Tuesday evening next the Laymen Missionary committee of the church will meet to review the work of the present year and to make plans for 1911. It is expected that the forward movement along missionary lines will be well maintained.

Adult Bible Class—The Adult Bible class of First Presbyterian church met on Friday last and decided to organize in line with the Adult Bible class movement, and instructions were given to make application for the usual charter. The following officers were elected: Hon. president, Rev. Dr. Campbell; president, D. A. Fraser; vice-president, Miss Gould; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Sargison; corresponding secretary, Miss McNiven; teacher, Mr. McLorie.

St. Andrews.

Missionary Gathering—A very interesting missionary meeting was held in St. Andrew's church on Tuesday evening last when the various Presbyterian congregations of the city gathered to hear the missionary delegation who are touring the Presbytery in the interests of the cause. The speakers for the evening were: Rev. Dr. MacKay, general secretary of the mission board; Rev. J. Fraser Campbell, D. A. of India, and Rev. G. A. Wilson, home mission superintendent. C. C. Michener, and J. McLoire, of the local churches, also gave addresses.

Young People's Society—The Halibutmen social, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. last Wednesday evening, was a pronounced success. Unique decorations reminded the gathering of the time of the year and the programme was also in keeping.

Duncans.

Ordination Service—Last Wednesday evening there was a meeting of the Victoria Presbytery for the purpose of ordaining and inducting Rev. Mr. Rayne into the pastorate of the Duncans Presbyterian church. Rev. W. F. R. Robertson of Lafaymith, presided and offered the ordination prayer. Rev. Dr. Campbell addressed the minister, and Rev. G. A. Wilson the congregation. After the induction services addresses on missionary work were given by Rev. Drs. MacKay and Fraser Campbell, and Rev. G. A. Wilson, superintendent of home missions. Rev. D. MacRae, of Victoria West, was present as clerk of the Presbytery.

Knox.

Ladies' Aid—The Ladies' Aid Society of Knox church held their first annual thank-offering social in the church on the evening of Wednesday last, and although the evening was dark and threatening, a large number of the ladies and their friends turned out. After a good programme was rendered refreshments were served which all enjoyed. A marked feature of the programme was the presentation of the offering and the reading of the poetry composed by those who presented their "Talents," descriptive of the way in which they had raised their "Talent" money. The proceeds amounted to $100.

BAPTIST.

Emmanuel.

Sunday Services—Rev. F. W. Letts will conduct the services and preach both times on Sunday.

Thanksgiving Services—The thanksgiving services were well attended, and the supper and Hallowe'en party on Monday night were well patronized. The thank-offering on Monday night amounted to a good sum.

Young People's Union—On Monday night at 8 o'clock Mr. Pollard, singing teacher of the city schools, will give an address on "Singing in the Church." Everybody is welcome.

First Church.

To-morrow—Services—A subject which is attracting a great deal of attention among spiritual psychics these days, viz., "The Sin That Is Never Pardon'd," will be the theme of Rev. J. B. Warner's discourse on Sunday evening. Ernest Petch will be the soloist, and the Baraca male quartette will render a selection.

UNITARIAN.

Superintendent's Visit—Rev. Frank W. Pratt, superintendent of Unitarian missions for Canada, will close his present visit to the coast on Monday next when he and Mrs. Pratt will return to their Calgary home. Mr. Pratt will preach here to-morrow evening.

Lecture Course—On Thursday evening next the third lecture of the lecture course will be given by Dr. J. D. O. Powers, minister of the First Unitarian church, Seattle. Dr. Powers, who is one of the most popular lecturers on the coast, has been heard in Victoria on former occasion. Those who had the privilege of listening to him previously will be sure to hear him again next week. His subject will be "Brain and Personality."

METHODIST.

Metropolitan.

Song Service—The Thanksgiving song service given by the choir last Sunday evening attracted a large congregation, and was greatly enjoyed by all. Rev. T. E. Holling gave an address upon "National Thanksgiving."

Annual Social—The annual Thanksgiving social given by the Ladies' Guild was held last Monday evening and in spite of the very inclement weather there was a large number present. The programme was a most enjoyable one. The Sunday School orchestra rendered several selections, Mrs. E. Parsons sang, Miss Gladys Steinmetz, and Miss Bromley Jubb recited. Mr. Ingram gave a clarinet solo, and a scarf drill was given by a number of young ladies who had been trained by Mr. Steinmetz. This last number aroused considerable interest and the excellent manner in which the young ladies performed the somewhat difficult evolutions brought hearty applause. Every item on the programme was most heartily received and encores were frequent. The members of the Ladies' Guild served refreshments and a very pleasant hour was spent in social intercourse and in welcoming the new comers.

Orchestra Concert—The excellent programme rendered by the Sunday School orchestra under the leadership of Jesse Longfield deserved a much larger audience than assembled last Tuesday evening in the school room. The orchestra, numbering thirty pieces, rendered their selections in excellent manner, and were accorded much praise. The orchestra was assisted by Miss Beek, W. Melville, Mrs. Jesse Longfield, J. O. Dunford and Mrs. W. E. Staneland. This musical organization is one of the features of the Metropolitan Sunday school and is achieving much success.

Teachers' Meeting—The second of a series of teachers' meetings which are being held in connection with the Metropolitan Sunday school, was held last Wednesday evening with a good attendance. The lesson for to-morrow was taught by Rev. A. E. Roberts, and J. M. Campbell gave the first lesson on Teacher Training. The meeting next week will be held at the home of the superintendent, Mr. W. E. Staneland, Richmond avenue.

Ladies' Guild and Young Women's Club—There will be a joint meeting of these two organizations on Monday evening next at the parsonage, 916 Johnson street, to complete arrangements for the Rainbow sale of work to be held on Monday, November 13, in the Victoria hall. The sale of work will be on a much larger scale than in previous years and it is expected that the programme will attract large numbers. Mrs. Paterson, wife of the lieutenant-governor, has promised to open the sale of work at 3 p.m. on the 13th, and the various stalls will be well loaded with fancy and useful articles. At the meeting of the Ladies' Guild last Friday afternoon there was a good attendance, and besides the business of making final arrangements for the bazaar, many other matters came to the attention of the members. The secretary was asked to write letters of sympathy to Mrs. Luney, who had suffered bereavement in the death of her son, and to Mr. and Mrs. Foxall for the loss sustained by them during the recent disastrous fire.

Sunday Services—The quarterly communion services will be held tomorrow both morning and evening. At the morning service there will be a reception of new members and the number who will be welcomed is the largest in the history of the present pastorate. This is an indication of the numbers who are coming to the city of Victoria as many are presenting letters from churches in very different parts of the world. A number will also be received on profession of faith.

Rev. T. E. Holling will conduct both services. In the morning his subject will be, "The Flock, the Family and the Kingdom," and in the evening, "Influence and Its Relation to Heredity and Environment."

Adult Bible Classes—The Adult Bible classes will hold a rally in the church on Sunday afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock. The orchestra will be in attendance to lead the musical part of the service and addressed will be delivered by Rev. J. B. Warneke of First Baptist church, Rev. T. E. Holling, F. A. McDermid, teacher of the men's class, and Rev. A. E. Roberts, teacher of the Young People's class. The general public are cordially invited to attend this rally.

Spring Ridge—A lecture on "Westminster Abbey" will be given in the Spring Ridge Sunday school by H. J. Pollard next Wednesday evening. The lecture will be illustrated by a number of excellent lantern views and will commence at 8 p.m. The public are cordially invited to attend. An offering will be taken for the funds of the school.

James Bay.

Epworth League—The Epworth League social at the home of R. J. J. J. last Monday evening was a big success. In spite of the stormy weather there was a good attendance and the league was royally entertained by their host and hostess to a Thanksgiving banquet. A very pleasant and enjoyable time was spent.

Congregational Social—The annual Thanksgiving social was held in the church last Wednesday evening. There was a good number present and the programme was heartily enjoyed.

Among those taking part were Miss Miller, Miss Renfrew, Miss Whyte, and Miss Webster. Sprinkling Thomas and Dilworth. There was a liberal thankoffering.

Sunday Services—B. Black, a recent arrival from England, preached last Sunday evening to a large congrega-

MAN WHO DISCOVERED MANY NEW WORLDS

Astronomer Royal Has Seen
Marvellous Strides in Study of Heavens

Sir William Christie, the Astronomer Royal, has left Greenwich Observatory after forty years' continuous work there. In those forty years he has seen new worlds added to human knowledge, and he has played a distinguished part in the revealing of that knowledge.

The progress made in astronomical work? "It is hard to state it in catalogue form," said he when discussing his work. "The power of instruments has increased; photography has been brought into use, and knowledge has been brought to bear in various directions. The great thing has been the introduction of photography. It was in 1873—in the days of the old wet plate—that I first tried to get a picture of the sun. From that time I studied photography and became a photographer. The remarkable results that have since come from the use of photography are due to the introduction of the rapid plates of extreme sensitiveness."

"Has the photographic plate, in conjunction with the telescope, revealed unknown stars?"

"Large numbers. Stars not discernible by the human eye appear on the photographic plates."

The Astronomer Royal explained one part of the work which he and his assistants have carried out. Eighteen observers took upon themselves the task of making a chart of the sky. The section of the sky allotted to Greenwich had, allocated to it in the recognized catalogue 25,284 stars. Greenwich has now completed its portion of the work, and has by the aid of photography counted 719,088 stars in the section.

Sir William explained that this meant not only that combined telescopic and photographic power were probing the heavens deeper than ever before, but also that small, faint stars were being picked up on the way. One of the photographic plates is a marvellous sight. There is a black background with tiny white pinpricks all over it, so close together that it seems impossible any human being would be able to count them. That is the sky at night as revealed to the photographic plate. The dots—which are stars—are counted by means of an invention of the Astronomer Royal called the Duplex Micrometer.

Sir William walked through a maze of strange buildings wherein were installed the big telescopes, looking very much like huge naval guns. "The great equatorial" has an object glass of 28 inches and a focal length of 28 feet. A mattress and pillow are on the floor beneath it. The astronomer lies there on his back to take his observations.

Asked for the principal discovery during his term of office, Sir William replied: "The outer satellite of Jupiter in February 1908. We did it through photography."

"What was the largest telescope when you came here?"

"One with a 13-in. object glass."

"And now?"

"One of 25 inches. We can now see objects which gave only one-fifth of the brightness of those which it was possible to see thirty years ago."

"Wonderful photographs of the sun in eclipse" taken by Sir William in various parts of the world, hang on the walls of the observatory. He pointed out what looked like mushroom-shaped sprouts of fire projecting from the eclipsed circumference. They are in reality the flaming mountains of the sun on which scientists have speculated much.

The photographs obtained by Sir William are accounted among the best in the world. "There is scope for study in these sun pictures," he said, "but owing to the great pressure of admin-

SURVEYORS BUSY ON VIRAGO SOUND

Number of Timber and Coal Claims Secured.—Improving Yakoun River

(Special Correspondence of Times.)

Massey, Oct. 30.—A number of surveyors and others have been in the vicinity of Virago Sound recently, looking over the various properties and securing timber and coal claims.

J. Faulls, coal mine expert, inspected the discoveries at Tow Hill and left for the Wilson mine, on the Yakoun River. He proceeded through to Skidegate by the trail.

The work of clearing the Yakoun river of driftwood and fallen timber, has been completed to the Wilson mine. The provincial government is clearing a trail on the banks of the river.

E. Cochrane, a resident of the inlet for some time, was convicted before the Indian agent of supplying an intoxicant to an Indian woman. Cochrane was sentenced to pay a fine of $150 or, in default, imprisonment for three months.

The wharf at Massey is in course of construction, under charge of Henry Edenshaw. It is expected that the regular steamer will call at the new structure before the 1st January next.

Mrs. Wm. Hogan, wife of the popular pastor, has organized two societies for the purpose of preparing material for the forthcoming sale of work in aid of the funds of the Anglican diocese.

It is understood the fortnightly mail service between Prince Rupert and Massey will commence on the 1st of November. A regular weekly steamer has been much appreciated and it is hoped the Grand Trunk Pacific railway will continue on the present schedule.

FORTIFICATIONS OF PANAMA CANAL

States and any of the European countries, within 50 years at least. I do not believe the Pacific will be an American lake with the canal completed. The countries of the East would dispute with the United States the making of the Pacific into an American lake. Especially is this true of Japan. Japan will watch with great concern the building of a fortified canal, and I feel quite sure that any proposition for a permanent fortress at the western terminus would be keenly felt in the land of the morning sun. The Japanese are bound to be extremely sensitive on the subject.

Taking the event of fortifications and a war between the United States and Japan as actualities, one can readily see that Japan, far from respecting the neutrality of the canal and not committing an act of war thereon, would have a strong interest in its destruction. A heavy charge of explosives in the Gatun dam would render the canal not only useless so far as the ships of the United States are concerned, but of the entire world as well. And on account of the dam being the key to the entire system it would not be a too difficult task to accomplish the canal's destruction.

"It is the great weakness of any lock canal like the actual canal, a weakness which no fortification will cure, which has always led me to advise the cutting of the Isthmus of Panama; that is, of an open and deep cut, without any dams or any locks, and therefore indestructible by man in war or by nature in peace. The great moral and material interests of the United States would be much better served by such an indestructible highway without fortifications than by an artificial, easily destructible canal, even guarded by a $15,000,000 system of guns and forts. No nation would be harmed by it; no natural rights would be violated; it would be something created for serving the cause of peace."

DOCTOR ON TRIAL.

Fresno, Cal., Nov. 4.—The defence in the trial of Dr. J. D. Martin, charged with failing to provide proper medical attention for his dying wife, began today.

The first witness was Mrs. R. Russell, a nurse, who attended Mrs. Martin. Mrs. Russell said that Dr. Martin always told her where she could find him whenever he left the Martin home, so that if his wife should become worse he could be notified. She also testified that on some occasions Dr. Martin sat up at night at his wife's bedside and frequently attended her.

It was predicted that the case would end next Wednesday.

MUST PAY DUTY.

New York, Nov. 4.—When Aviator le Blanc sold Moissant the Bleriot machine in which Moissant made some wonderful flights, he did not profit as heavily as he expected. The United States custom officers have ruled that le Blanc must pay $3,420 duty on the machine. When the machine was brought into the country le Blanc gave bond stating the machine was to be used for exhibition purposes only. The customs officials could have charged $6,480, doubling the duty because the bond was violated, but decided to be lenient.

The Venezuelan Congress is studying a law requiring the teaching in the public schools of temperance and the hygiene and other effects of alcohol on the human system.
